WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1884.

THE OPENING OF CONGRESS.

President Roca opened yesterday his Fourth Congress, and the ceremony was one of unusual splendor. The Plaza was crowded with troops extending from the 25 de Mayo to Congress Hall. At 2 p.m. the members, both Senators and Deputies, met, and the inauguration ceremony was carried out with a very small number of exceptions. The President, who was escorted by a military band, entered the Chamber and took the oath of office. He then addressed the Congress, and his speech was one of the most important of his career. He spoke of the progress of the country and the challenges it faced, and he urged the Congress to work for the benefit of the nation. The ceremony was a grand affair, and it was a fitting beginning to the new legislative session.

The military bands in the Plaza played the national anthem, and the troops were in full dress uniform. The President's speech was well received, and it was a testament to his leadership. The Congress then adjourned for the day, and the members returned to their homes. The opening of Congress was a significant event in the history of the country, and it was a day of great pride for the people of Buenos Aires.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Message: Senators and Deputies. For the fourth time I have the satisfaction of opening your Sessions in the midst of peace and order, and free from foreign difficulties or internal troubles. The country has entered into a normal groove in the exercise of federal institutions and liberty, no longer endangered by military or political life. The melancholy experience of the past has taught the people that poverty, disorder and ruin follow in the wake of anarchy.

There may remain many deficiencies, defects, flaws—even errors—but, young as we are in our nation's history, we are able to surmount them. If we follow the even tenor of our course, those deficiencies will be met, those defects will be removed, with the good will and help of all.

A Government may be bad, but it passes away. Another bad one may follow, but it will also pass away. It is the good that remains, the good that is the basis of our nation's future. We must not let the mistakes of the past weigh us down. We must look forward with confidence and hope, and we must work for the betterment of our country.

political disturbances—expenses out of proportion with the revenue of the nation.

A reaction must inaugurate our future policy of colonization; the weak and feeble efforts to colonize in 1878 and 1880 have been, satisfactory results. Thanks to those, thriving settlements have risen in the Chaco and Patagonia, forming a foundation of population centers; in Entre Rios there are now 16 colonies with a population of 11,000 souls.

There is no reason why the colonies should be discouraged; on the contrary, we must continue to foment the planting of colonies in territories that are being opened to the civilization of the nation.

The extension of the line from Tucuman to Chilo is being pushed ahead with activity, and the section to Matanzas will be completed by the end of the year.

The surveys of the route from Olita to Jujuy and Salta have been completed, and the Government will present a law to recognize their titles and their rights, who, in periods of great change, had the courage to settle down there.

The principal articles of commerce, such as wheat, wool, and hides, are being produced in large quantities, and the Government will take steps to protect the interests of the producers.

The condition of the Eastern Argentine Railway is not satisfactory. Although the returns are increasing, the Government must take steps to improve the service and to ensure the safety of the passengers.

The National Government has received a report from the Governor of the Province of Buenos Aires, and it will take steps to address the concerns raised in the report.

The President's speech was a masterpiece of oratory, and it was a fitting beginning to the new legislative session. He spoke of the progress of the country and the challenges it faced, and he urged the Congress to work for the benefit of the nation.

ed, and I have called for bids for the construction of the railway from Rio Negro to the north.

The general revenue of the nation, for the year 1883, was thirty millions of dollars ($30,000,000), which was an increase of 12.12 per cent.

The account for the first three months of the present year shows that the increase has not only been sustained, but developed considerably.

The expenditure has been strictly confined within the limits of the Budget, amounting to twenty-nine million three hundred and eighty-three thousand seven hundred and sixty-six dollars ($29,383,761), or being six hundred and thirty-six thousand four hundred and sixty-four dollars ($636,444) less than the total revenue of the nation.

During the same period twelve millions three hundred and sixty-six thousand three hundred and twelve dollars ($12,366,312) were paid out to pay off the Floating Debt, with the above balance in the Budget, and the Government will present a law to recognize their titles and their rights, who, in periods of great change, had the courage to settle down there.

The law of October 4th 1883 authorizing an emission for the National account of notes representing fractional value, rendered a further supply of silver coin unnecessary and in consequence, as soon as the bill in preparation is disposed of, this will cease.

The difficulties incident to operations of emission have impeded for the present a full compliance with the law.

The National Bank having undertaken the emission, contracted for the manufacture in the U. States, and in view of the long dates needed by the manufacturer, the law of October 4th 1883 has been made a law of the country.

At the present moment these notes are being put in circulation although with the delay that their manufacture necessitates.

To conclude, I believe that the advance and prosperity of the country now rest on a firm basis, and we may confidently expect that proceeding with our customary discretion, no economic perturbation that we can foresee, will tend to impede our progress.

If we have in part augmented our debt, we can at least congratulate ourselves on having employed the money honestly in order to develop the country, and to give a most notable impetus to our industry and commerce.

The aggregate tonnage of our foreign trade for 1883 was three hundred and ninety-six thousand three hundred and thirty-three tons, or being six hundred and thirty-six thousand four hundred and sixty-four tons less than the total revenue of the nation.

During the same period twelve millions three hundred and sixty-six thousand three hundred and twelve dollars ($12,366,312) were paid out to pay off the Floating Debt, with the above balance in the Budget, and the Government will present a law to recognize their titles and their rights, who, in periods of great change, had the courage to settle down there.

or 4 scholars; and in the absence of any great increase of population and increased demand for secondary education many of these colleges are but a useless expense.

We are reforming the rules and programs of these colleges, obeying the law, namely, that secondary instruction should not be the exclusive preparatory school for the professions, but only the means to spread an instruction capable of preparing the student for the many walks in life, to fill the social position of citizen.

The project for reforming the law of the Universities before you and I hope you will pass it.

The state of our Universities corresponds with our means, and surpasses our wants. It might be desirable that they were not so largely attended, in order to check the rising alarm of increase of young men who devote themselves to parasitic professions, when the country so much needs their labor and intelligence as producers.

7 Conservatives
16 Opportunists
23 Radicals
1 Socialists
In Lyons the Radicals also gained the day.

PRESS TELEGRAMS

Montevideo, 6th.
The reported case of yellow fever on Flores Island is confirmed. Official telegrams say that the patient is dying. General Santos is about to purchase the Montevideo quinine for 30,000 pesos.
The Matto Cruz has arrived with 400 immigrants.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The French mail steamer Euphrate will sail to-morrow afternoon, mail bags will close at 1 p.m. Our Packet Bulletin will appear to-morrow.

There was unpleasant news from Montevideo yesterday. There is a case of yellow fever on Flores Island, a Brazilian soldier recently arrived from Rio. The Health Board down there have taken all the steps desirable in the emergency, and the season is so advanced that any spreading of the disease is in every way improbable, if not impossible.

The third meeting of the "Estadísticos" Gun Club took place at Robert Murphy's, Estancia Chica, near Zapallo, on the 4th inst. The members present were Thomas A. Gahan President, Deputy Eduardo Murphy, William Casey, J. Brown, Dr. Murphy, Lorenzo Cassey, James Murphy, E. D. Tallon, L. Gorman, William Moore and Robert Murphy. There were also in attendance a number of friends from town and the adjoining estancias. The weather was fine and the sport was very good. The first event, consisting of ten single pigeons sprung from four traps at twenty five yards, was won by Deputy Murphy who killed 9 birds, William Casey scoring 8 and Robert Murphy 7 birds. At two o'clock the whole party partook of a beautiful lunch after which the shooting was resumed. In the next event, six single pigeons, there was a tie at 5 birds between Mr. Tallon and Robert Murphy, which the latter won. Another match of five single birds was won by Lorenzo Cassey who did not lose a bird. We are informed by our special reporter that the "Strangers" match resulted in a tie, score not given. Between Carlos A. Davis and Alexander McLean, he decided at the next meeting. At the conclusion of the sport, a magnificent dinner, with covers for thirty five, was served; and between good wine and good cheer, there was a general firing of toasts until near 9 o'clock. There was then an adjournment to the sala, where the younger portion of the company "tripped the light fantastic toe," until morning. The next meeting of the Club will be at Mr. James Casey's, Estancia Chica, where besides the order of the day, some fine sport of ostrich hunting with the bolita is promised.

A grand vocal and instrumental concert is given to-night in the Teatro Nacional for the benefit of the well-known and popularizing manager, Professor Paul, who has always been ready to come forward at public performances in aid of charity, and certainly deserves a triumph, which we feel certain he will have. Sr. Pazienza will direct an orchestra of 55 of the best professional instrumentalists in town, and the programme is splendid. Tickets are on sale at Rodriguez's, in Calle Florida.

It was said yesterday that the Bahia Blanca extension of the Southern Railway opens to the public to-day.

Some of our colleagues announced yesterday that the House Committee of the Municipality intended to abandon the recent increase in market imports, and go back to the old taxes. Ever and these are preposterously high, unjust, and unbecomingly applied.

The municipal banquet to be given on Friday evening next in the National Theatre. Five hundred people will sit down. As one caterer could not manage to supply a square meal to such a host, the "Agencia" and the Cafe de Paris will divide the work and the profits, which ought to be immense, as the "agencia" is $1000 per head.

To-night there is a "gran gala" performance at the Politeama, for the benefit of these wonderful children, Hattie and Harry Carlo. The whole company, and every horse and animal in it will appear, and master Carlo Ventura will, for the first time, perform a wonderful flying act, in which he will "obsequio" of his young fellow artists.

Ex-Governor Rocha received enough presents, on the day he retired from office, to set up a respectable museum or monster shop. Amongst them was a curious and valuable one from Mr. Sebastian Caseres—a stick.

We feel much pleasure in congratulating Mr. William Baker, son of the esteemed U.S. Consul here, on his appointment as U.S. Consul in Rosario. Although young, Mr. W. Baker has had much experience in Consular duties, and will be prominently the right man in the right place in his new and responsible post.

The weather had a cold snap in it yesterday that made noses red and blue and brought forth topcoats and mufflers on many women and child. Nevertheless it was a fine, bracing day for collectors, brokers with lots of business, newsboys and all who could take brisk exercise, but a miserable one for eubeditors, policemen and all who are tied to their post of duty.

A London correspondent says:—
"Sir Wilfrid Lawson is expected to make at least one joke a week. Yesterday some members were discussing the Merchants Shipping Bill and Mr. Norwood's opposition to it. One of them said: 'How ungrateful you are!' exclaimed a Conservative: 'why, last year he carried the Government on his back through the Suez Canal.' 'Ah,' said Wilfrid, 'that explains. He must have dropped them in the Red Sea.'"
